

A Fantastic Opportunity for Youth in Denmark this Fall! We are offering FOUR Youth Scholarships to the International Academy

Location: Ollerup, Denmark

Start date: August 15, 2010

End date: December 19, 2010

Application deadline: July 13, 2010 by 9:00am

8-80 Cities in partnership with International Sport and Culture Association (ISCA) is honoured to offer two Canadian and two Mexican youth the opportunity to receive an exciting four month international scholarship. Honourees will participate in the International Youth Leadership Education program with the International Academy, INTAC in Ollerup, Denmark from August 15th, 2010 to December 19th, 2010.

The aim of this scholarship is to develop strong community leaders who understand the important role leadership and sport can play in developing more vibrant, equitable and sustainable communities. By taking part in this program, participants will learn and engage in an academic environment with Danish youths and approximately 30 other international students. This unique experience supports the development of leadership skills by combining organizational management, leadership theory and sports education and will develop skills applicable to volunteer organizations, sports associations and non-profit organizations.

An integral part of this program is focused on learning about the values of the Scandinavian society in a global context. Honourees will be enrolled in Danish language lessons enabling them to integrate into the Danish environment and communicate at a basic level with native students.

Course content is divided into five categories:

- Leadership
- Physiology of Sport and Exercise
- Non-Governmental Organization (NGO) Management
- Gymnastics
- Sports

Elective courses related to sports, culture, society and even creative classes such as photography, music, painting and crafts are also offered.

In conjunction with the theoretical lessons and participation in physical activities, honourees will visit Copenhagen for one week in September where they will be exposed to Danish history and culture. Contents covered in this week will complement the program's course work and activities.

Honourees will live, learn and play with youths from countries all around the world including: Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Costa Rica, Czech Republic, Estonia, Japan, New Zealand, Scotland, the Slovak Republic, Slovenia, South Korea, USA and more.

As part of the scholarship, honourees will receive:

- 1) Paid tuition for the 17 week program
- 2) Paid room and meals at the International Academy (2 youth per room)
- 3) Receive an International Youth Leader Education-diploma from the International Sport and Culture Association
- 4) Possibility for credit transfers as a part of a student's university education requirement
- 5) Europass Mobility Passport recognized by more than 31 European countries (the initiative is supported by EU, Council of Europe and UNESCO and is a part of the Bologna declaration)
- 6) Honourees are required to pay for travel and personal expenses. Refer to application form for more details.

We believe through this interdisciplinary and interactive approach participants' will gain valuable international perspectives and receive an enriched learning experience which will support their professional and personal development helping them become valuable leaders of tomorrow. We strongly encourage all that are eligible to apply.
